Online Newsletter

The Centerville-Washington Park District has been a leader in conservation efforts for fifty years. Our quarterly News and Events is currently available in pdf format on our website, www.cwpd.org. Households can opt-in to notification of the newsletter via the Park District's website. Complete the form found at our website with your mailing address and your household will no longer receive a printed copy of the News and Events.

New Operations Technician

Brian Sullivan joined the Park District operations staff as a seasonal employee this spring and was promoted to a full-time position in July.

Brian currently resides in Washington Township with his wife, Lori, and their two children. Brian attended Cumberland University in Tennessee where he was an education major. Formerly an employee of the Moraine Assembly Plant, Brian looks forward to broadening his horizons with his new position in the parks. Please join us in welcoming Brian to the Park District.

Commissioners Corner

Wintertime provides new opportunities to explore the hidden gems of our Park District. The leaves have all fallen allowing park visitors to see areas and views not possible at other times of the year. I encourage you to visit our nature and neighborhood parks and walk the trails to see these sights and views. I remember my first time walking the Yellow Trail at Bill Yeck Park, looking across the entire park and really appreciating the size and variety of topography and vistas. Another winter favorite is Grant Park and seeing tracks in the snow along the Brown and Blue Trails. New cross-country skiing trails are available on the Smith Farm at Bill Yeck Park. Attend one of the many programs and tours offered by the Park District to fully experience your parks full of life with animals and activities during the winter months. Visit our website and newsletter for dates and program offerings. We also finalize new projects for the coming year during the winter months. Be on the lookout for new perimeter trails at Iron Horse and Oak Creek South Parks and new park development at Holes Creek and Silvercreek Parks in 2011.

Park Donation

The Centerville-Washington Park District accepted a generous donation from two park neighbors at the August Board meeting. The Heintz and Carlson families purchased and then donated a vacant lot between their homes that was adjacent to Watkins Glen Park. This addition to the park preserves another valuable area of open space. These families saw the opportunity to improve their neighborhood and the community and made it happen. Please join us in thanking the Heintz and Carlson families for their generosity to the community. Visit Watkins Glen Park and watch your Park District grow!

CURB YOUR TRASH, DON'T DUMP IT

Spring is just around the corner and with the advent of spring comes the debris from winter's fury. Please respect the boundaries of the parks within your neighborhood and instead of dumping your yard waste in the park, place it out with your trash as requested by your refuse hauler. Your neighbors will thank you and so will the staff at the Park District. This will free our staff to take care of your parks instead of wasting public dollars cleaning up residential debris. If you notice someone dumping waste in the parks, please call (937) 433-5155 or local law enforcement.

The Green Gift Guide

Green means different things to different individuals. When it comes to gift giving for the holidays, one thing is for sure, you don't have to spend a bunch of green to give a nice gift. The holiday season doesn't have to be a time when you compromise your ecological ideals either.

Homemade Goods

It's the thought that counts. This rings particularly true during the holiday season. A woolly hand-knitted scarf, a tin of home-baked cookies, a DIY recycled paper notebook, or even homemade bath salts all make wonderful gifts and can be tailored to the recipient's liking.

House Plants

Share your green thumb with this neat gift idea. House plants are the gift that keeps on giving by improving indoor air quality and allowing the caretaker to nurture some inner peace when tending to the plants. Some suggestions include the rubber plant, the Ficus benjamina (weeping fig), English ivy, spider plant, or Boston fern.

Donations

Recycle those dud presents from holidays past. Donate gifts that don't fit or don't suit your taste at your local thrift shop or freecycle (www.freecycle.com). This website facilitates the exchange of free stuff from people in your local area. Donate to a charitable cause that you support in the name of your recipient.

Charitable donations don't have to be in the form of money either. You can always volunteer the gift of time. Baby-sit for a new family member, offer a home cooked dinner for an older friend, or even volunteer at the local food bank or shelter with a group of your family or friends. The gift of time is often overlooked, particularly during the holiday season and can build new traditions and memories that last a lifetime.

Gift Wrap

Purchase recycled gift wrap or utilize reusable shopping bags. Consider placing gifts in a wicker basket that can be used throughout the year.

If you really don't want anything, try to urge family and friends to give you something non-tangible, like an iTunes gift card.

With a little creativity and forethought you can make gift giving at the holidays a green affair!

No class February 9
Ages 4-5 years old
Grant Nature Nook,
6588 McEwen Road

Participants will enjoy activities with an alphabet theme, age-appropriate equipment, and fun music. The "mini movers" will learn movements that assist in motor development and rhythmic skills, and will have an opportunity to interact with other children their own age. Both group and individual activities will be included for them to expand their social skills and be creative. All children must wear comfortable clothing and tennis shoes.

Parent participation is not required. Registration is required for this FREE program.

Fireside Eco-Chats

Wednesdays, 7:00 p.m.

Grant Nature Nook, 6588 McEwen Road

Join us at the Nature Nook for this exciting three-month series for adults! Each month we will welcome Lori Firsdon and Barb Warner from Encore Professional Organizers to the Nature Nook to discuss various topics related to organization and green living. Registration is required for these FREE programs. See page 10.

December 8, Take Charge of Your Stuff We can save the planet one person at a time by taking a serious look at how we're living today. Barb and Lori will show you how to think differently about the stuff you've been saving through the various 'seasons' of your life. Learn to monitor what stuff you bring into your life. Clutter-free gift ideas for the upcoming holiday season will be shared - you'll be ready to recycle things you own and consume less than you ever thought possible!

January 19, Organize Your Life Ready to save time, money, and the planet this year? Make 2011 the year you know exactly where everything is in your home by learning to manage your tasks and errands. Lori and Barb will teach you how to organize any room in your home and stop the cycle of buying duplicate items because you can't find the ones you already own. You'll also learn to run errands in batches and complete tasks in a systematic approach saving gas while getting things done. Isn't it time you give your home and life a make over?

February 16, Insights from a Professional Organizer Learn what Lori and Barb do on a daily basis to stay organized and focused on the things that really matter in life. Down to earth practical solutions to make your home and life more enjoyable will be shared. Bring your organizing challenges and get the answers to reduce stress and bring a sense of calm back to your life while at the same time helping our environment. Taking control of your life begins with a single step. Barb and Lori offer the practical advice to start your journey towards contentment, peace, and organization.

Children Ages 3-12 years

Grant Park, 501 Normandy Ridge Road

Fee: $50 Resident/$75 Nonresident

Registration Deadline: January 21

Winter is a great season to experience camp! Winter Woods Day Camp includes a mixture of indoor and outdoor fun at Grant Park. Campers will go on hikes, participate in games and activities, make crafts, and of course, go sledding each of the four action-packed Saturdays. No snow? No problem! There are many other adventures to experience at Grant Park during the winter.

Children are grouped according to their age and classes will be conducted indoors and outdoors. The program will be held each Saturday in February unless the weather causes roadways to become treacherous. Children are required to wear boots, hats, and gloves each day.

Registration is required for this camp and payment is required at the time of registration. No refund credit will be issued after the registration deadline. Registration information is available on page 10.
