Park District Offers New Program

Centerville, Ohio – May 11, 2009

As part of the Centerville-Washington Park District's 50th Anniversary, a new program is being offered to encourage walking and fitness activities throughout the community. Pathways: A Community Walking Tour was designed to encourage healthier lifestyles by providing easy routes that begin, end, or pass through a local park. A brochure with map and route descriptions is available at the Park District's Headquarters, 221 North Main Street in Centerville. The Centerville-Washington Park District was recognized by the National Recreation and Park Association as a Step Up to Health...It Starts in Parks agency.

Participation incentives will be awarded in December of each year. The more miles you log, the more prizes you can accumulate. Download the log to record your mileage from the Park District's website, www.cwpd.org. Get outside and start walking today for a healthier you and a healthier community and remember it starts in parks.
